ATTORNEYS SUMMING UP.

The Closing Features in the Trial of Augustus L. Shaffer.

The summing up of arguments of counsel to the jury in the case of Augustus L. Shaffer, on trial in Criminal Court No. 1 for the alleged murder of his former wife, Katherine Ivey Shaffer, were drawing to a close late this afternoon. It is expected that the jury will retire about 5 o'clock to consider a verdict. The first half hour of today's session was consumed by reading over the instructions Justice Wright has decided to give the jury. Assistant United States Attorney Kelgwin then addressed the jury in behalf of the prosecution. He spoke until nearly noon, and was followed by Attorneys D. W. Baker and Henry E. Davis, in the order named, for the defendant. The final state-ment was left to Assistant United States Attorney Turner, for the prosecution. Each side was allowed two and one-half hours for arguments.

When Mr. Turner shall have concluded, Justice Wright will give his instructions, and the fate of Shaffer will then rest with

DIPLOMAS GRANTED BY NA-TIONAL UNIVERSITY.

-Exercises at National Theater Last Night.

A class of ten young men was graduated | Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. last evening from the National College of Pharmacy at the thirty-second annual commencement of that institution. The exercises were held in the National Theater, several hundred of the friends of the graduates being present. Flowers in profusion were presented to the young pharmacists, after they had received their degrees at the hands of their president, Dr. Henry E. Kalusowski, Phar. D., and an elaborate musical program was rendered by an orchestra under the direction of Prof. Haley. The theater was decorated with the national flag, while the stage was set with many growing palms and above the proscenium arch was suspended a mortar in flowers, the emblem of the school, bearing the letters N. C. P. and '04 beneath. The Edward B. Fristoe memorial scholarship was won by Mrs. W. C. Downey of the class of '06, who was on the stage with the graduating class. After an invocation by Rev. Lucien Clark, Dr. Louis Klemm of the United States bureau of education, addressed the graduates. He made a strong plea for the dissemina-tion of a knowledge of chemistry and heart-ily advocated the adoption of that science as a part of the course of the high schools of the city. He said that, while chemistry has been denied the honor of classification among the exact sciences, it should not longer be kept without the gates, for it had proven itself worthy of a place beside mathematics and kindred sciences.

Prof. Samuel Waggaman followed Dr. Klemm in an address, after which Presi-ient Kalusowski conferred the degrees and John J. McLoone of Ireland, delivered the valedictory. The pronouncement of the benediction by Dr. Clark, concluded the exercises.

The following is the personnel of the class graduated: Joseph Foster Allison, Illinois, Isadore Baer Cohen, Iowa; Frederick Young Donn, District of Columbia; Wilbur Sud-darth Hauer, District of Columbia; Claude darth Hauer, District of Columbia; Claude Edward Koss, District of Columbia; John Joseph McLoone, Ireland; Charles Cum-mings Read, Pennsylvania; Joseph Cromer Williams, Maryland; James Bray Wingate, Maryland; Alfred Wollberg, Pennsylvania.

Banquet Tendered.

Following graduation exercises at the theater a banquet was tendered the class at the Shoreham by the Alumni Association of the National College of Pharmacy. J. S. Gallagher was chairman of the committee having in charge the festivities and George D. Kehoe was toastmaster. Several members of the faculty made remarks during the evening and the valedictorian of the graduating class of '04, responded to a call for a speech. The following were among those in at-mission-General Matters. The Potomac Park, opposite the Washington barracks and abreast the steamboat wharves, is covered with elder bushes, which are now in the glory of their fullest bloom. From the deck of the steamers on the river the park, particularly along the water's edge, is covered by big white blooms and presents a most beautiful picture. The rich earth of which the Potomac Park is made causes a thick growth of all kinds of wild flowers and shrubbery. So thick is the growth that it is difficult for any one to force their way through it. The Potomac Park is said to be full of rabbits, but they are rarely hunted, as the thick underbrush makes it almost impossible to find the game after it is killed. The supply of fresh fish on sale at the wholesale market on the 11th street wharf this morning was rather small, while the lent Croaker and trout constituted the was a scattering supply of catfish and perch from the river. Bass have been particularly scarce this season, and have com manded high prices. Prices for all grades of fish are on the increase in consequence of the good demand. There has been a slight increase in the receipts of crabs from the Potomac, but the demand is still in excess of the supply, and prices continue per dozen, while hard crabs were worth the demand for them continues. REPRESENTATIVE NEW YORK DEMOCRATS CALL IT FUTILE.

Their Candidate-Hill Refuses to Talk-Notes.

A dispatch from New York last night says: Judge Parker's friends in this city who are attending to the details of his canvass for the presidential nomination at the democratic national convention in St. Louis would not discuss for publication the attack made upon them by William J. Bryan in Cooper Union on Monday night. Privatetely, they said they believed the Cooper Union meeting accomplished more toward bringing about the nomination of Judge Parker than anything they could have done themselves. There is little doubt, however, that they are not satisfied entirely as to their ability to carry out their program. Judge Parker's managers are desirous of making the vote for him so strong on the first ballot that the tide will be quickly

At the same time the anti-Parker element is more confident than ever that it will have just enough votes over the necessary onethird to prevent the nomination of the New York jurist on any ballot. Several conferences have been held in this city within the last day or two and others are in contemplation toward the end of the week. They count on at least two hundred votes con-trolled by William Hearst and two hundred by Mr. Bryan, which, with those controlled by Senator Gorman, Wall of Wisconsin, Olney and others, will give the necessary number. INJUNCTION GRANTED.

Question of Hollow Concrete Building Block Machine.

An injunction has been issued against the firm of Spayd, Bennett & Co., at the instance of the Harmon S. Palmer Hollow Concrete Building Block Co., with an office in this city and Alexandria, Va., to prevent the first-named from manufacturing hollow blocks patented by the Palmer company. The decree was rendered in the United States circuit court for the western district of Kentucky, Spayd, Bennett & Co. having been engaged in erecting a church at Owensboro, Ky., of the blocks patented by the complainants.

The decree sets forth that the Spayd company violated the rights of the complainants, who were possessed of letters patent for the molding of the concrete blocks, and orders and enjoins it from proceeding with its work by the use of the blocks made by it or any one else than the patentee. The costs in the case were charged to the Spayd company. In the decree of the court it is set forth that letters patent of the United States were granted to Harmon S. Palmer in Dewere granted to Harmon S. Palmer in December, 1889, and that Mr. Palmer was "the first true, original and sole inventor" of the machine and its workings, and that Mr. Harmon owns all the rights and titles to the patent. A perpetual injunction is issued by the court which restrains the defendants from using or selling or in any from using or selling or in any manner trading with the block making machine
